

Surveyor

Education

- Associates degree in Land Surveying is a plus

Experience

- Autodesk AutoCAD
- Easement research

Salary

- Negotiable and commensurate with applicable experience

Responsibilities

Successful applicant must be able to demonstrate experience and/or skills in the following areas:

- Associates degree or greater in Land Surveying a plus
- Detail oriented with strong organizational skills
- Understand the Public Land Survey Systems (PLSS) should have a good understanding of land sections, townships, and ranges
- Have minimal capabilities utilizing Autodesk AutoCAD or Civil3D software
- Ability to research existing easement documents
- Have intermediate skills in Microsoft Excel and Word
- Have intermediate skills researching GIS databases
- Ability to work independently with minimal supervision